

Closet Factory South Carolina Continues to Excel At Customer Service

New owner Bill Reid maintains top-notch customer service standards for 11-year old custom closet franchise.

Columbia, SC (PRWEB) October 21, 2011 -- Closet Factory located in Lexington, SC and serving the state of South Carolina and Augusta, Georgia is pleased to announce that Bill Reid has purchased the franchise from Lance Westberry.

"Closet Factory has served the Midland's and Augusta areas for the past 11 years with over 3500 satisfied clients," says Bill Reid, President. "We look forward to continuing the tradition we have established as the premier storage solution authority and expanding our product line to serve all of our client's needs.

The Closet Factory Showroom has been recently updated to include a home office in cherry, a designer closet in maple and a Murphy Bed display in a traditional white. Customers can pick from a variety of finishes, door styles, jewelry drawer inserts, laminate options, hardware and hundreds of Closet Factory accessories. The following is a testimonial from a new client.

"Thanks so much for your professional and cost-efficient services. I started out using another company that proved to be unresponsive, failed to provide information when promised, and still owes me a detailed design and estimate. It was so refreshing to have you come by my home, view the closet area, and discuss my needs. There was no waiting for the design and estimate; it was done while you were on-site. I had the closet solution I desired installed and in-use on the date promised. No problems and no hassles. Congratulations to Closet Factory for meeting and exceeding my expectations." - George C, Columbia, SC

About Closet Factory
